Guillotine

1: Cut and score the guillotine as shown.

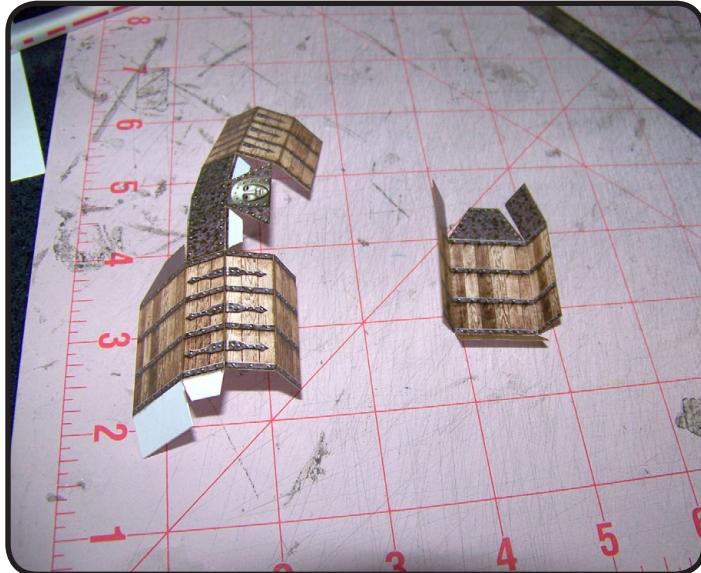

2: Fold each piece in half and glue.

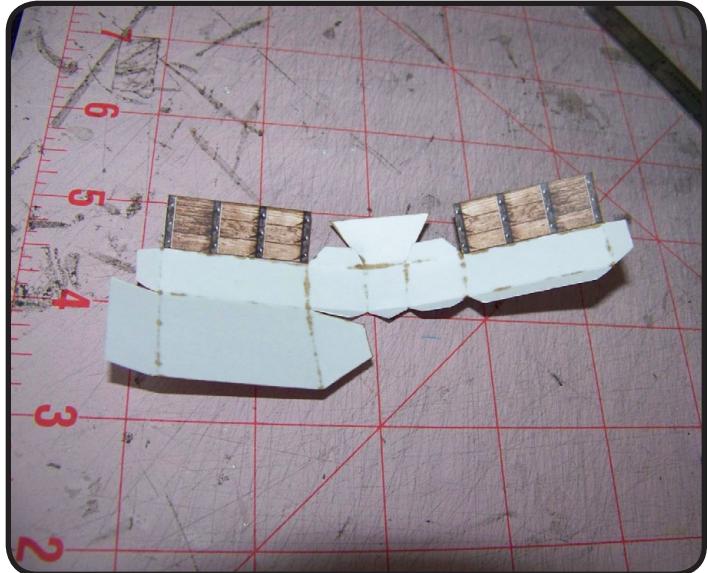

3: Insert the triangular supports through the bottom slots as shown.

Iron Maiden

1: Cut, score and test fold as shown.

2: I edged the model before gluing as this is the easiest time to do it. Begin construction by folding the doors in half and gluing.

3: Next glue the front 'face' of the iron maiden to the two side tabs.

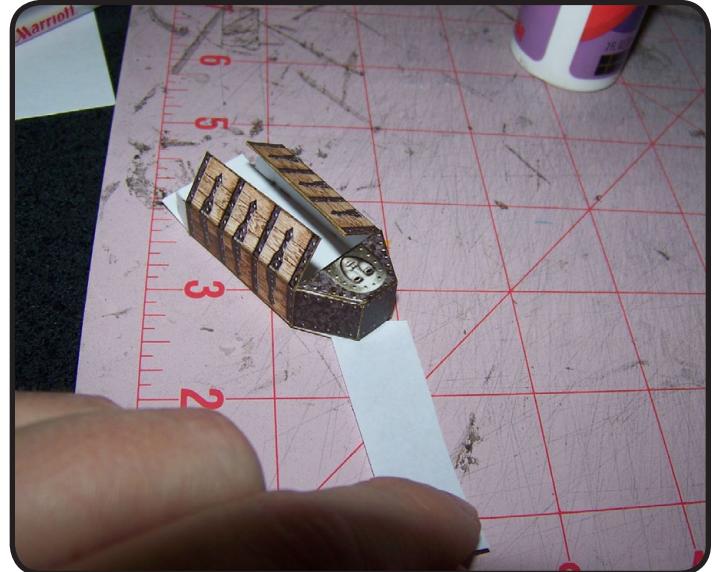

4: Here is a front view of step #3.

4: Glue the long side seam to the backwall as shown above.

5: Next glue the three rear 'head' tabs. Use a scrap of cardstock to apply the glue between the tabs and the backwall.

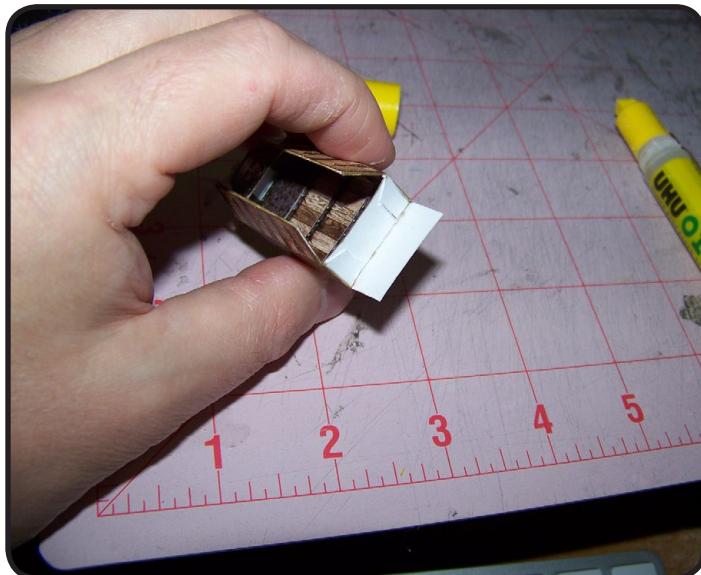

6: You can use a pen or similar instrument to apply pressure to the rear head tabs after applying the glue in step #5.

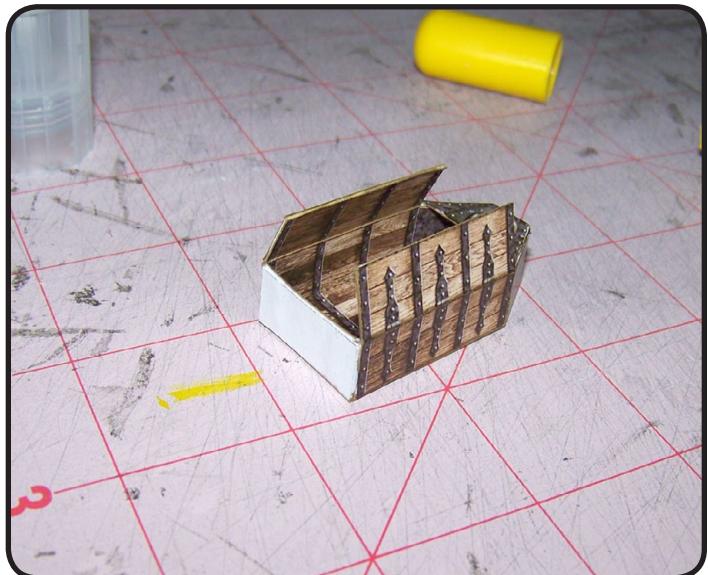

7: Insert the interior piece and glue as shown.

8: Glue the two side tabs to the bottom of the interior lower flap.

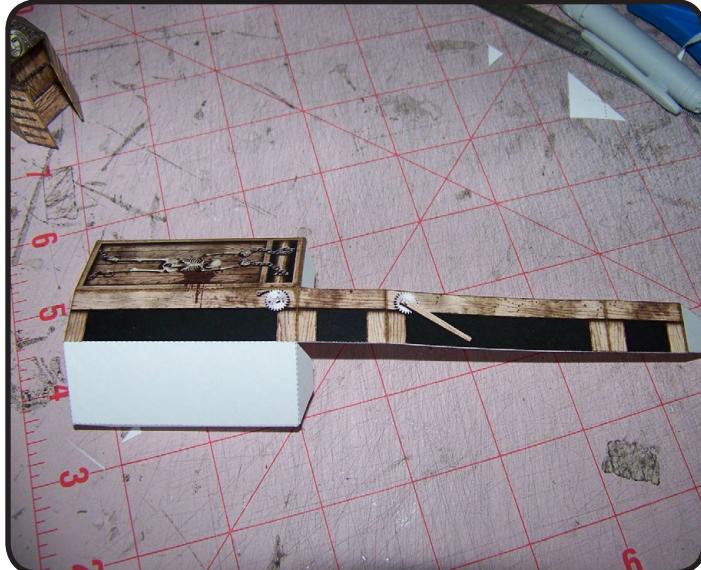

9: Fold the bottom flap into place and glue.

10: The finished iron maiden.

Rack & Table

1: Cut and score as shown.

2: Glue the side wall tab first.

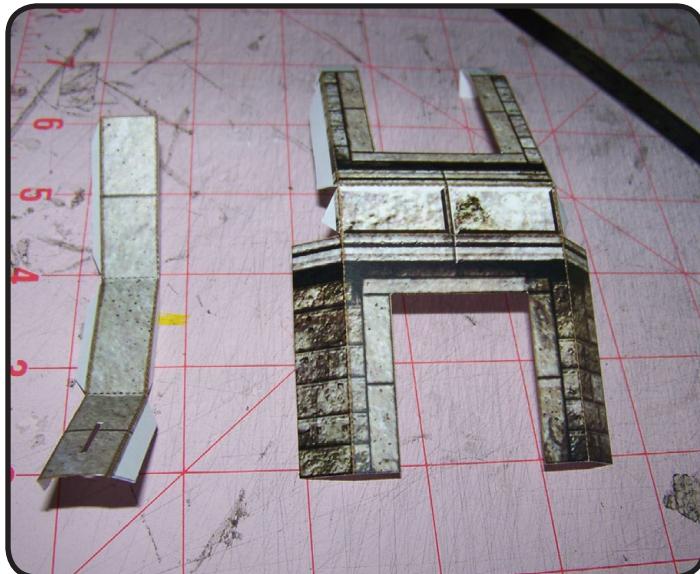

3: Turn upside down and glue the top flap into place. By having it upside down you can press against the table to make sure it glues flush with the sides. Also, this allows you to apply pressure to the tabs from the inside of the model.

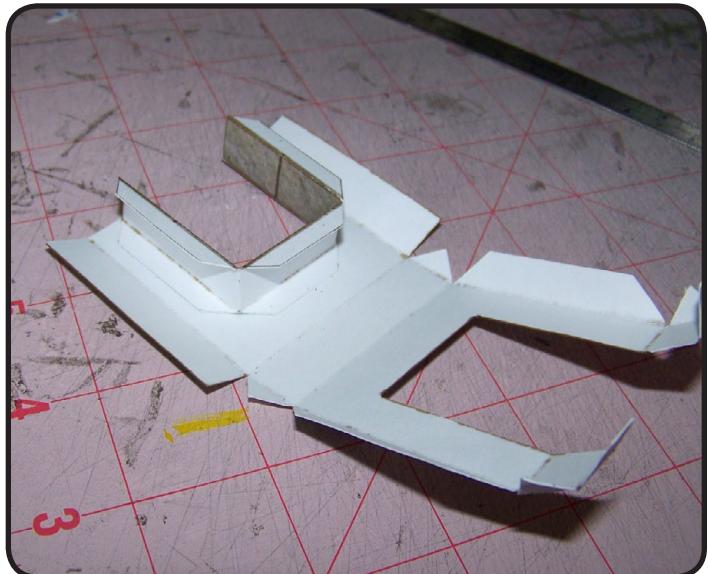

4: Finish by gluing the bottom flap into place. The table model assembles exactly the same way as the rack model.

Door and Wall Opening

1: While the square door assembles pretty much like the archway opening in the E-Z DUNGEONS: Deluxe Edition set, I wanted to show it anyway to avoid any confusion. Cut, score, test fold.

2: Begin by gluing the interior frame to one wall as shown.

3: Fold over the opposite wall and glue to the frame.

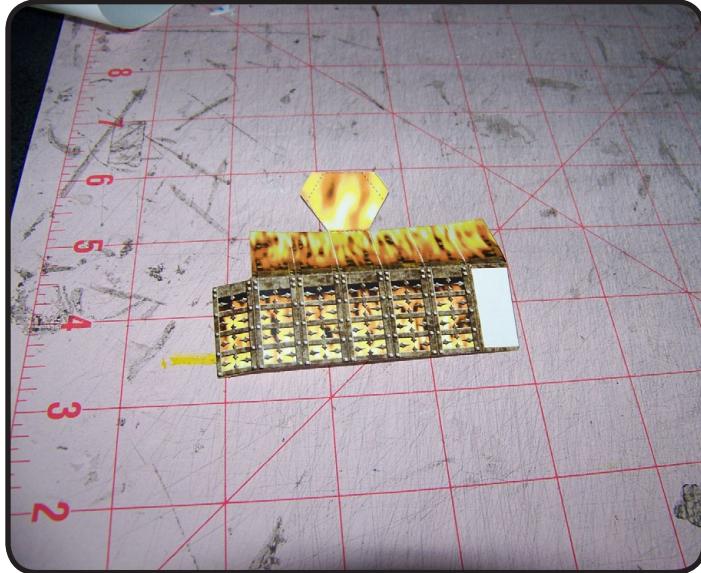

4: Fold and glue the side flaps as shown. Finish by gluing the bottom two flaps. The doors assemble just like in the Deluxe Edition instructions and insert the same way.

Remaining items

While the remaining items are all basic shapes covered in the Beginners Guide, I wanted to include a few reminders for you.

Judas Cradle: Remember to insert a pen or pencil when gluing this and apply pressure to the tab from within.

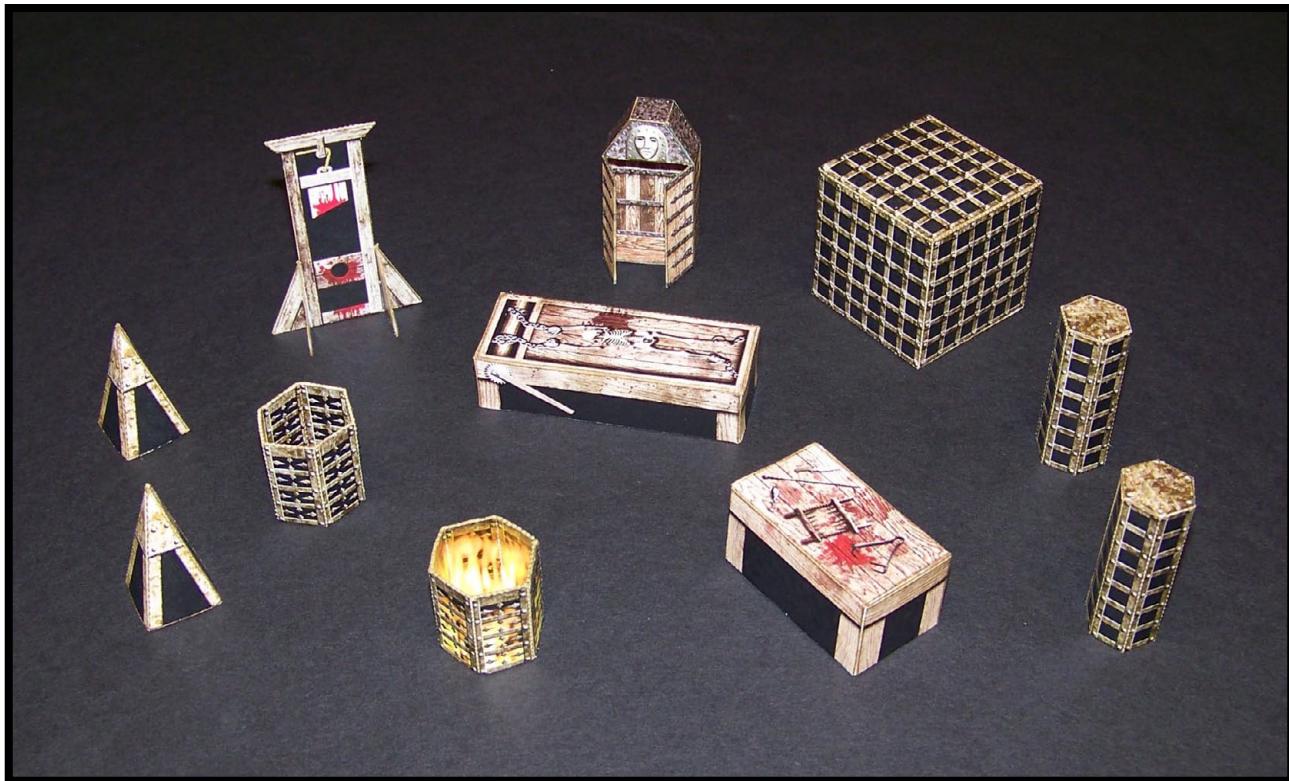

Small cage: Flip upside down when gluing the top flap and use a pen or pencil to press the flaps into place while they dry.

Large cage: You can cut off the bottom wall of the model so it can be placed over miniatures.
