Telemon

Within this document are black and white map pages for the Future Armada starship, Telemon. The pages are grouped into the bow, center, and aft sections of the ship, with the blockade runner cargo bays shown last. These would replace the cargo container sections in the middle part of the ship. For the extended variants, the middle section (containers or cargo bays) would repeat once. The rest of the ship remains unchanged.

On the following pages are composite images of the standard Telemon container ship and blockade runner, followed by the extended variants.
