ROW OF STALAGMITES:

Movement cost: no movement

Line of sight: blocked

[Note: Models with 25mm bases are meant to be able to pass between all the gaps except for the tiny gap between the second and third stalagmite from the right. Large-based models can't fit between several of the gaps without squeezing between the obstacles, meaning they can't end their movement between the small gaps.]

A collection of Chainmail miniatures, which are small, circular, metallic pieces with a starburst or sunburst pattern on their top surface. They are scattered across a dark, textured, and slightly uneven surface that resembles stone or a rough floor. The lighting is dramatic, casting soft shadows and highlighting the metallic sheen of the miniatures. The overall tone is dark and atmospheric.
