

REVENGE ON GO CHAN HILL

BB 5.1 CONCEPT: DAVID ROTH DESIGN: BRIAN BLAD

NEAR CEBU CITY, PHILIPPINES, 30 MARCH 1945:

On 29 March Company A 182nd Infantry tried to clear the Japanese from Go Chan Hill. From here, the defenders had a clear view of the harbor facilities and Lahug Airfield. Continuous attacks proved fruitless, and as the Americans tried to withdraw, the Japanese blew up an ammo dump in a cave on the side of the hill. The explosion destroyed one tank, disabled 2 others, and virtually wiped out all of Company A. The next morning the men of Companies B and C, backed by Divisional artillery assets, mortars and M3 tanks would try to get revenge for their comrades.
