PLAYER PARAPHERNALIA #25

By the Knotty-Works

Welcome to the twenty-fifth issue of Player Paraphernalia, a hodge podge of character ideas and alternate rules that may be used with the Pathfinder Roleplaying Game (Paizo, Inc®). This issue introduces a new base class, the Charger. Although based on the fighter class, the charger has enough unique class abilities to justify it as a base class rather than trying to shoe horn it into an archetype. As the name suggests, the charger likes to charge things. In fact he is at his best when he is charging headlong into the maw of death.

The Charger

There are some that — heedless of the danger in front of them — rush head long into battle, with little concern for their well being or possibility of survival. Then there are chargers. These warriors are trained to advance headlong to the arms of the enemy, but through advanced tactics and strategy to maximize their possibility of hurting the foe while minimizing their own fatality. Chargers are first and foremost melee tacticians, preferring hand to hand combat over any other type of attack. To a charger, the fight should always be taken directly to the enemy and facing a foe head on is the most honorable way to live and die on the battle field.

Role: Chargers are front line fighters, providing the front line for both defense and offense. Often used as the first sortie sent against an enemy, chargers more easily break through enemy defenses, opening holes for those that come behind them. Chargers are proficient with many ranged weapons, and can take the secondary role of ranged support, but most disdain this tactic and will generally fall into this role only when commanded to do so.

Alignment: Any

Hit Die: d10

Starting Wealth: 5d6 X 10 gp (average 175 gp). Charger also begins play with an outfit worth 10 gp or less.

Class Skills

The charger's class skills include Acrobatics, Bluff, Climb, Craft, Intimidate, Knowledge (dungeoneering), Knowledge (engineering), Profession, Ride, Survival, and Swim

Skill Ranks Per Level 2 + int

Class Abilities

Weapons and Armor Proficiency: The charger is proficient with all simple and martial weapons. He is also proficient with light, medium, and heavy armors and all shields (except tower shields). However, wearing heavy armor or carrying a heavy load will impact some of the charger's class abilities.

Fast Movement (Ex): The chargers gains +10 feet to his base movement when charging at 1st level. The charger loses this bonus if wearing heavy armor or carrying a heavy load. If the charger also has the Run feat, this rate increases to +15 feet to his base movement rate.

At 11th level, the chargers gains an additional 10 feet to his base movement when charging (+15 feet if the charger has the Run feat).

Bonus Feats: The charger gains Power Attack as a bonus feat at 1st level. Then at 4th level and every three levels there after the charger gains additional bonus feats from the following list (new feats are marked with a *): Bull Rush, Strike, Charging Bull Rush*, Charging Overrun*, Charging Repositioning*, Charge Through, Crushing Blow, Dodge, Endurance, Greater Bull Rush, Greater Charge*, Greater Drag, Greater Overrun, Greater Sunder, Improved Bull Rush, Improved Charge*, Improved Drag, Improved Overrun, Improved Sunder, Improved Unarmed Strike, Lightning Stance, Mobility, Pushing Assault, Run, Shield of Swings, Stunning Assault, Stunning Fist, and Wind Stance. The charger must meet any prerequisites for a chosen bonus feat.

At 7th, 13th, and 19th level the charger may choose to replace an existing bonus feat with another feat. He must meet any prerequisites for the new feat and any prior bonus feat that is a prerequisite for another feat the charger has taken cannot be replaced.

Hard Hitter (Ex): The charger causes an extra 1d6 damage to target of successful charge attack at 2nd level, and the damage increases by 1d6 every third level thereafter.

This damage is not precision based and creatures immune to precision based attacks or flanking are not immune to this damage effect. This damage is not applied to sundering attacks without aid of one of the charger's charging tactics (see below).

Damage granted from this class ability is not multiplied when a critical threat is confirmed, but added after the critical hit damage is calculated.

Charging Maneuver Mastery (Ex): At 3rd level the charger may add +1 to his CMB when performing Bull Rush or Overrun maneuvers and +1 to his CMD when defending against the Bull Rush or Overrun maneuvers. These bonuses increase every three levels thereafter (to a maximum of +6 at 18th level). These bonuses do not alter any other effects of either of these maneuvers such as provoking attacks of opportunity and does stack with any bonuses granted by feats, magical effects, or other class abilities.

Charging Tactics: The true skill of the charger is applying sound battlefield tactics to his attacks. As the charger progresses he may choose special tactics that apply to his charging attack beginning at 4th level and an additional charging tactic every third level thereafter. No tactic may be chosen more than once unless specific direction is given within the tactic description. The charger may only apply one tactic per charge unless the tactic specifically grants that ability.

Charging tactics built upon one or more of combat maneuvers cannot be combined with the feats that allow the charger to perform a combat maneuver as a free action. Thus, if a charger is using the Dragging Charge tactic, he may not use the Charging Overrun feat for the same attack.

Note that all charging tactics that enhance the charge attack only function while the charger is relying on his own movement (i.e. not mounted) except as granted by Mounted Charge tactic.

Advanced Armor Training (Ex): The charger must have the Armored Charge tactic before he may take this charging tactic. This tactic allows the charger to be more maneuverable while wearing armor and can be applied for any combat action, not just the charge attack. When the charger takes this tactic he reduces the armor check penalty by 2 points (to a minimum of zero) and increases the maximum Dexterity bonus by 2 points. This tactic may be taken twice, granting -4 reduction to the armor check penalty and +4 increase to the maximum Dexterity bonus. This tactic does stack with other class abilities that grant armor training, but the -4/+4 threshold is the maximum bonus granted to this ability overall.

Ambling Charge (Ex): If the charger has 1 or more ranks in Acrobatics, he may attempt to avoid attacks of opportunity from his opponents other than the target of his charge while charging. When using this tactic, the charger cannot move more than his base normal movement rate for the charge attack (his fast movement bonuses does apply). Avoiding attacks of opportunity are handled normally per the acrobatics skill description.

Armored Charge (Ex): The charger is comfortable charging in heavy armor and he does not lose the fast movement bonus while wearing heavy armor though his normal movement rate is still dependent on the armor's movement rating.

Bear Down (Ex): If using the Overrun combat maneuver, this tactic prevents the target from avoiding its effects. In order to avoid the charger's Overrun, the target must make a Reflex save with a DC equal to 10 + ½ the charger's class level + his Dexterity modifier. Normal rules for Overrun apply including size limitations and provoking attacks of opportunity unless the charger has the Improved Overrun feat. This tactic may be applied with other charge tactics involving the Overrun maneuver.

Berserker Charge (Ex): The charger may go into a rage-like state as a swift action as part of a charge attack, gaining a +2 bonus to hit and damage with his charge attack while suffering a -2 penalty to his AC until the beginning of his next turn. All bonuses and penalties stack with the bonus granted for the charge attack. The charger is fatigued the next round.

Deceptive Charge (Ex): The charger may Feint as a swift action as part of a charge. If successful the target loses its Dexterity bonus to its AC for the charge attack. All other normal rules for Feint apply including the DC calculation and penalties for certain creature types.

Desperate Charge (Ex): The charger may charge while fatigued, though he is limited to his base movement speed plus his fast movement bonus for the attack and the penalties to Strength and Dexterity still apply. Once he performs the charge attack, the charger becomes exhausted for 2d4 rounds and then returns to the fatigued condition for the same number of rounds he was fatigued, though it may be removed through normal rest or magical restoration.

Dodging Charge (Ex): The charger may make a Reflex save against the target of his charge for any attacks of opportunity made by the target (such as for reach), DC equal to 10 + the target's CMB. If successful, the charger avoids any damage caused by the attack from the target. Attacks of opportunity from other creatures are handled normally.

Dragging Charge (Ex): The charger may attempt to both Overrun and then Drag an opponent as part of his charge attack in place of his normal melee attack. Only one Combat Maneuver check is required for the Overrun and Drag and if it succeeds the charger manages to both Overrun the target and then Drag the opponent behind him as part of the charge. Both combat maneuvers are processed normally in the order of the overrun and then the drag maneuver. Either maneuver may provoke attacks of opportunity from the target unless the charger possesses the appropriate Improved feats, but this tactic will only provoke one attack of opportunity from the target at most. The charger must be at least 10th level to take this charging tactic.

Driven Charge (Ex): The critical threat range for the weapon used for the charge attack is doubled. This tactic does not stack with other abilities, feats, or magical effects that increase the critical threat range of your attack. The charger must be at least 16th level before he can take this tactic.

Follow Through (Ex): If an opponent moves out of the charger's threat range and provokes an attack of opportunity, the charger may delay his attack until the target moves 10 feet away from him. At that point the charger may move 10 feet as a free action and make his attack, treating it as a charge. This tactic may provoke attacks of opportunity from opponents other than the intended target and the charger suffers an additional -2 penalty to his AC until the beginning of his turn. Due to the impromptu movement, the charger has the staggered condition for 1 round. The charger must be at least 13th level before he may take this charging tactic.

Knock Down (Ex): The charger may perform a Trip attempt when he successfully hits a single target with his charge. Rules for Trip apply including provoking attacks of opportunity and size limitations. The charger must be at least 7th level before he may choose this charging tactic.

Moe Down (Ex): If wielding a reach melee weapon as part of a charge, the charger may attack two adjacent targets with a single attack. The charger rolls to hit once, applying a -2 penalty rather than a +2 bonus to the attack which is then applied to each target. The charger suffers the standard -2 penalty to his AC until the beginning of his next turn. Damage from his Hard Hitter class ability applies for a successful strike. The charger must be at least 10th level before he may take this charging tactic.

Mounted Charge (Ex): The charger gains Mounted Combat as a bonus feat regardless of the number of ranks he has in Ride. In addition, he may use the Deceptive Charge, Driven Charge, Plow Through, Smashing Charge, or Sundering Charge while astride a mount. The charger must be at least 10th level before he may take this charging tactic.

Piercing Charge (Ex): If the charger makes an charge with a piercing reach weapon such as a long spear or lance, the weapon causes one extra die of damage. If the attack is a critical success, a number of extra dice of damage are added based on the critical multiplier. The charger must be at least 13th level for this tactic.

Plow Through (Ex): The charger may attack another target that is within reach after attacking his first target of the charge attack. Only one attack may be made against the second target using the same attack bonus used for the first target. This attack does provoke attacks of opportunity from both targets unless the charger has the Improved Charge feat. The charger suffers an additional -2 penalty to his AC until the beginning of his next turn. The charger must be at least 13th level to take this tactic.

Repositioning Charge (Ex): The charger may attempt to Reposition the target of his charge in place of the normal melee attack. Normal rules for repositioning apply including provoking attacks of opportunity unless the charger has the Improved Reposition feat. If the charger beats the DC to Reposition by 5 or more points, the target also takes the damage from the charger's

Hard Hitter class ability. The charger must be at least 7th level before he can take this tactic.

Reversed Charge (Ex): The charger may make a single attack prior to moving during his turn and then move up to his base movement rate. He avoids any attacks of opportunity for the first five feet of movement, but suffers a -2 to his AC until the beginning of his next turn and the attack does not count as a charge. Rules regarding use of the Withdraw action apply when threatened by invisible opponents or if the charger is blinded.

Side Swipe (Ex): The charger may make a single attack against one opponent he passes while charging another with a -5 penalty to the attack. This attack does provoke attacks of opportunity from the target of this secondary attack. The target of the side swipe can not be the direct path of the charger's original target unless he also has the Charge Through feat. The charger must be at least 7th level before he can take this tactic.

Smashing Charge (Ex): If charging into an inanimate object or a construct, the charger ignores a number of points of the object's hardness equal to half his class level. In addition, the charger may apply damage caused by his Hard Hitter class ability to the object being attacked.

Sprinting Charge (Ex): The charger may move up to three times his base movement rate -including the bonus for Fast Movement - when charging as long as he is not wearing anything heavier than light armor or carrying a light load. The charger must be at least 7th level to take this tactic.

Sundering Charge (Ex): If the charger decides to use his attack from a charge to sunder an item held by another, the damage from the charger's Hard Hitter class ability is applied to the overall damage to the object.

Two Weapon Charge (Ex): The charger may attack with two weapons as part of his charge attack. Penalties for attacking with two weapons apply and any bonuses to hit with the charge only apply to the primary attack, the off handed attack does not gain a bonus from the charge attack. The damage from the charger's Hard Hitter class ability only applies to the primary attack as well. The charger must be at least 13th level to take this tactic.

True Charge (Su): Once the charger reaches 20th level, he may make a true charge once per encounter. This charge allows the charger to apply all known tactics (though limited to one tactic that includes combat maneuvers such as Overrun, Reposition, or Bull Rush) to the charge and he may move up to three times his base speed for the charge as long as he isn't fatigued or exhausted (this does not stack with the Sprinting charge tactic). If the charger critically hits the target with the true charge, the damage caused from his Hard Hitter class ability is counted as part of the critical damage calculation.

Notes and Rationale from the Designer

This revised edition includes clarification of some of the games mechanics and additional charging tactics. While seen as a one-trick pony, the Charger does offer a viable front line combatant with many of the bonus feats. In addition, new charging tactics were created to give him a bit more flexibility including a withdraw like action, ability to charge as an attack of opportunity, and the inclusion of mounted combat. While the charger's main purpose is still to close with the enemy as quickly as possible, he now has more flexibility in regards to take advantage of a fleeing foe or making a decisive retreat to line up another charge grant opportunities to bring the full brunt of his brute force to bear.
